ABOUT JOURNAL

"Livestock Studies" is an international refereed journal of Engineering and Natural & Applied Sciences specialized in the field of livestock, and published biannually by Lalahan International Center for Livestock Research and Training. The institution has been operating in the field of Animal Science and Livestock since 1951. The Institution continues its activities in the fields of cattle breeding, ovine breeding and poultry breeding as well as doing laboratory work specialised in "Institute's Breeding", "Animal Nutrition", "Genetics", "Artificial Insemination" and "Embryo". Numerous research projects have been completed and many others still continue to be carried out. "Livestock Studies" was called "Lalahan Livestock Research Institute Journal" when it was first published in 1959. With a great success, the journal has taken its place in National Refereed Journals followed by ULAKBİM (Turkish Academic Network and Information Center) in the field of Livestock. In order to gain an international reputation, the journal has changed its name to "Livestock Studies", and started publishing in English since 2019.

AIM & PUBLISHING

CHANGES TO AUTHORSHIP

- Authors are expected to consider carefully the list and order of authors before submitting their manuscript and provide the definitive list of authors at the time of the original submission. Any addition, deletion or rearrangement of author names in the authorship list should be made only before the manuscript has been accepted and only if approved by the journal Editor. To request such a change, the Editor must receive the following from the corresponding author: (a) the reason for the change in author list and (b) written confirmation (e-mail, letter) from all authors that they agree with the addition, removal or rearrangement. In the case of addition or removal of authors, this includes confirmation from the author being added or removed.

After Acceptance

Once the manuscript is accepted for publishing in Livestock Studies, authors will receive e-mail notification with all necessary information on further steps in publishing process. Accepted manuscript can be tracked via the link that will be sent by email. Proof will be provided for corrections, before the paper is published in its final form. Authors should indicate all corrections on the paper published as Proof by sending all comments by email to livestockstudies.org. Please notice that Livestock Studies reserves the right to reject a paper even after it has been accepted, if it becomes apparent that there are serious problems with its scientific content, or the publishing policies of journal have been violated.

Author Rights

Authors of published articles (and/or their employers or institutions) have certain rights to reuse published work with prior permission. Authors may download the "Permission Request Form" from livestockstudies.org.

SHARING SOCIAL MEDIA

Authors of accepted articles will be asked to provide up to 3 photographs and 1 video (~60 sec.) that present the study, which will be used to share information on our social media accounts in order to increase paper's publicity. If possible, Twitter usernames of authors should be also provided. The preferable format for video clips is MP4 (maximum file size is up to 200 MB), and for images either JPEG, GIF or PNG (maximum file size per image is 5MB, and 3MB for animated gifs). Please send the photographs and video to journal by email to info@livestudies.org
